A LITTLE ABOUT ME

I'm someone who enjoys discovering how things work and how different ideas connect. I like asking questions, exploring new perspectives, and finding practical ways to turn ideas into action.

HOW I LIKE TO LEARN

I learn best by doing. Whether it's working on a project, exploring a new tool, or solving a challenging problem, I enjoy the process of trying, learning, and improving.

WHAT'S NEXT?

What drives me, why I chose this path,
and where I hope to grow.

MY KEY STRENGTHS

It is a structured way of thinking, supported by data and a strong ownership mindset.

01

THINK FROM FIRST PRINCIPLES

Challenge assumptions, identify the core objective, fundamental facts, and real constraints, then build solutions from first principles.

02 TURN DATA INTO DECISIONS

Use data, visualization, and analytical models to understand operations and support better decisions.

WHY SUPPLY CHAIN?

Because I enjoy understanding how decisions CONNECT ACROSS THE ENTIRE FLOW and how better decisions can improve real operations.

01 CONNECT THE DOTS

I enjoy seeing the whole picture.

Planning • Inventory • Warehousing
• Transportation • Distribution

02 CREATE IMPACT

Decisions lead to measurable outcomes.

Cost • Time • Service • Visibility

03 CONTINUOUSLY IMPROVE

There is always a better way.

Measure → Understand → Improve
